

Teaching Term Position in Humanities

Grenfell Campus, Memorial University of Newfoundland, has a population of more than 1,300 students and emphasizes innovative approaches to teaching and learning, research and engagement. Experiential learning, impactful research and strong community relationships are the hallmarks of Grenfell Campus' profile.

The Humanities program at Grenfell Campus is seeking an eight-month appointment in Humanities at the rank of lecturer. The position will begin on September 1, 2018 and end on April 30, 2019. Area of specialization is open but the candidate should demonstrate an interdisciplinary and contemporary focus in arts disciplines such as Philosophy, Religious Studies or History. Competence in Indigeneity and Gender studies preferred. The candidate should have a Ph.D. in hand and have some demonstrated potential as a teacher.

Applications will be accepted until 5:00 p.m. on Monday, March 5, 2018. A letter of application along with a curriculum vitae, teaching dossier (including evidence of teaching effectiveness and a sample course outline) and the names and contact information for three references should be sent in electronic form to: Dr. Laura Robinson, Dean, School of Arts and Social Science, Grenfell Campus, Memorial University of Newfoundland, Corner Brook, NL A2H 6P9. Telephone: (709) 637-6202; email: sassdean@grenfell.mun.ca.

All appointments are subject to budgetary approval. Salary will reflect qualifications and experience in accordance with the Collective Agreement governing faculty at Memorial University of Newfoundland.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority. Memorial University is strongly committed to employment equity and especially welcomes applications from all qualified candidates, including women, members of visible minorities, Aboriginal persons, members of sexual minorities and persons with disabilities.